

▼ KINEA BATHTUB
BY MASSIMO IOSA GHINI
FOR TEUCO

Kinea's curved rim dips on one side, creating a hand line that mimics an ocean wave and makes it easier to get in and out. Available in three sizes, the bath comes equipped with one of three technologies: a massaging whirlpool; Hydrosilence for deep relaxation; or Hydro sonic, which combines a silent whirlpool with the benefits of ultrasound.

teuco.it

▲ SILHOUETTE
BY BETTE

Using the latest manufacturing techniques, Bette has created the first steel bathtub that consists of a single seamless piece of steel. Available in three models, each with a conically tapered body: Starlet Oval Silhouette, Home Oval Silhouette and the brand-new Cuba Silhouette.

bette.de

▲ OTTOCENTO
BY BENEDINI ASSOCIATI
FOR AGAPE

A line inspired by the past, Ottocento displays a clean, modern aesthetic. Baths and basins are made of Cristalplant, a stone-resistant material that maintains a uniform water temperature. The basin is available as a wall-mounted or metal-framed model. Matching taps update the look of the classic cross design.

agapedesign.it

▼ DUO
BY MATTEO THUN AND ANTONIO RODRIGUEZ
FOR NEUTRA

Stone and wood join in organic harmony to form the bathroom furniture in Neutra's Duo collection. Available are washbasins, monoliths, shower trays, shelves and baths, which come in several sizes and with a wooden base if desired.

neutradesign.it

▲ OFURO
BY MATTEO THUN AND ANTONIO RODRIGUEZ
FOR RAPSEL

Recalling a traditional Japanese wooden tub, Ofuro invites the user to relax and recuperate from the daily grind. The size of the tub allows for complete immersion, and both material and shape convey a sense of calm. The bath is made entirely from larch and is available with or without a base.

rapsel.it

▲ MORPHING
BY LUDOVICA + ROBERTO PALOMBA
FOR KOS

In their design of Morphing for Kos, the Palombas opted for Cristalplant, a modern material that aided their quest to explore and enhance the existing aesthetic of bathroom design. The collection comprises a number of austere designed baths and basins.

kositalia.com

■ DUNE
BY MARIO FERRARINI
FOR ANTONIO LUPI

A bath that invites you to recline in different positions is Dune. Rising around a circular base are undulating walls that incline to various degrees, enabling multiple views and comfortable positions. Made from Cristalplant, Dune comes with a pressure plug.

antonio.lupi.it

