▲ Marmo Arredo x Inedito Asnaghi Eclipse Low Tables

Italian furniture company Inedito Asnaghi enlisted Marmo Arredo, renowned for his work in processing natural stone, for the Horizons Collection, a range of stylish low tables. Available in various sizes and crafted using a combination of marble, glass and metal, these tables offer endless possibilities for dynamic compositions. Whether as a coffee table with a marble or glass top, or a chic C-shaped side table, the collection will add modish charm to any interior. The piece de resistance is the Eclipse Low Tables, featuring evocative shapes that recall the celestial phenomenon.

◀ Eos Suspended Lamp by Draw Studio

Inspired by the Greek goddess of dawn, the Eos suspended lamp features distinctive grooves that echo columns found in ancient Greek temples. A blend of antiquated allure and functionality, the lamp's distinctive grooves cast a dramatic interplay of light and shadow, reminiscent of temple columns at dawn.

▼ Cassina Notturmo a New York

Cassina celebrates the indelible legacy of Gaetano Pesce with the exclusive Notturmo a New York sofa. Limited to 50 pieces, this tribute to the late design maestro captures the essence of New York's skyline through nine meticulously crafted skyscraper modules, seamlessly blending art and functionality. The sofa's backrest, shaped like a full moon, as well as depictions of skyscraper windows on the upholstery evoke the nocturnal charm of the Big Apple. Each module is adorned with an exclusive 3D effect fabric and features sustainable materials, including recycled PET fibre padding. 33
